MENTOR–MENTEE REPORT

Academic Session: 2025–2026

The Department of Geography has successfully implemented the Mentor–Mentee Programme, with the objective of supporting undergraduate students in their academic development and enhancing their understanding of geographical concepts and practical applications. The programme focuses on improving subject knowledge, analytical skills, fieldwork competence, and overall personality development of students.

Under this system, each faculty member was assigned a group of students to provide continuous academic guidance and mentoring. Regular meetings were conducted to monitor students’ academic performance, attendance, participation in practical work, and overall progress in the subject.

During the session, students actively participated in various academic activities such as map work, field surveys, project work, and geographical data analysis. These activities helped them develop practical skills and a deeper understanding of physical and human geography.

Mentors also provided support to students in overcoming academic challenges, managing study-related stress, and improving their learning strategies. A friendly and open environment encouraged students to discuss their problems and seek guidance freely.

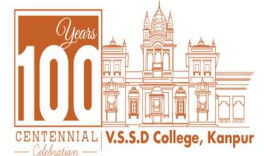

Students were encouraged to participate in seminars, workshops, group discussions, presentations, and field visits related to geography. Special emphasis was given to the use of modern tools such as GIS (Geographic Information System), remote sensing, and digital mapping techniques.

Guidance was also provided regarding career opportunities in geography, including higher studies, research, environmental planning, urban development, and preparation for competitive examinations.

The mentoring system proved effective in identifying the diverse learning needs of students. Additional support was provided to those who required improvement, while meritorious students were motivated to excel further in academic and co-curricular activities.
