

Fostering Innovation and Intellectual Property: The Academic Journey (Report) of the IPR Cell, V.S.S.D. College, Kanpur

The academic year 2026-27 marked a transformative period for the Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) Cell at V.S.S.D. College, Kanpur. Driven by a vision to bridge the widening gap between traditional legal education and rapid technological advancements, the Cell curated a dynamic series of academic events and initiatives throughout the year, the campus and its digital extensions transformed into a vibrant hub for discussing the complex intersections of Intellectual Property Rights, Artificial Intelligence, and the modern digital economy.

1- One-Day National Workshop on Artificial Intelligence and Copyright, 9 April 2026

From Digital IP Protection to Global Higher Education: A Continuing Journey of Academic Excellence. Building on the successful One-Day National Workshop on “Artificial Intelligence and Copyright”, the IPR Cell, V.S.S.D. College, Kanpur, continued its academic journey with a series of thought-provoking programmes addressing contemporary issues of Intellectual Property Rights, Artificial Intelligence, digital innovation and global higher education. The academic journey of 2026 began with a thought-provoking One-Day National Workshop on “Artificial Intelligence and Copyright”, organized on 9 April 2026. As Artificial Intelligence continues to generate artistic, literary and creative works, it has brought several important legal questions to the forefront—who is the author of AI-generated content? Who owns the copyright? How should moral rights be protected? And can existing copyright laws effectively address the challenges posed by AI-driven creativity?

The workshop provided an insightful platform to explore these emerging legal dimensions., Dr. Anshu Singh, (Assistant Professor) C.S.J.M. University, Kanpur, guided the participants through the contemporary legal challenges surrounding Artificial Intelligence and Copyright, highlighting the need to understand and adapt intellectual property laws in the rapidly evolving digital era. The programme was graced by the presence of Prof. (Dr.) Neeru Tandon, Principal, V.S.S.D. College, Kanpur, Prof.(Dr.) A.B.Jaiswal, Convenor, IPR Cell, and all respected faculty members, whose presence and encouragement added immense value to the programme. The programme was successfully conducted by Shri Rajesh Kumar Vishwakarma, Member, IPR Cell, while the Vote of Thanks was delivered by Dr. Anand Dwivedi Member IPR Cell.

The IPR Cell hosted an online National Workshop titled "Digital Gold Rush" on May 2. Recognizing the vulnerability of ideas in a borderless internet era, Prof. (Dr) Suneet K. Srivastava from the School of Law, IGNOU, illuminated the mechanisms of IP protection—ranging from patents to trade secrets. Participants were equipped with practical strategies to safeguard their digital assets against online piracy and infringement, a crucial skill set for today's innovators and entrepreneurs.

3. International Workshop on “The Changing Landscape of Global Higher Education” | 17 June 2026

Dr. Aashish Srivastava, Senior Lecturer at Monash University, Australia

Taking the academic journey to an international platform, the IPR Cell organized a pivotal International Workshop on 17 June 2026 in the Conference Room of V.S.S.D. College, Kanpur, focusing on the changing landscape of global higher education. The distinguished speaker, Dr. Aashish Srivastava, Senior Lecturer, Monash University, Australia, shared valuable insights from his international academic experience. He encouraged educators and researchers to move beyond merely suggesting policy changes and emphasized the importance of interdisciplinary research that addresses real-world societal challenges. Dr. Srivastava also highlighted the responsible use of Artificial Intelligence in higher education, explaining how several foreign universities allow students to use AI tools while maintaining accountability for the accuracy, integrity and application of their work. He further discussed the transition from rote learning to analytical and open-book assessments, along with the growing importance of global academic indicators and research visibility, including the Scopus Index. The programme was beautifully moderated by Ms. Amrita Verma and witnessed enthusiastic participation from the college's academic fraternity, including Dr. Anand Shukla, R&D Incharge, Dr. Vikas Singh Gangwar; Dr. Sandeep Singh; Sri R.C. Dhiman; Dr. Nandlal Jaiswal, Dr. Fatima Aashna; and Dr. Kajal Kushwaha. The enriching programme concluded with a heartfelt Vote of Thanks delivered by Dr. Ajay Bhupendra Jaiswal. The continued support and encouragement of Prof.(Dr.) Neeru Tandon, Principal, V.S.S.D. College, Kanpur, provided strong institutional impetus to these academic initiatives and reflected the college's commitment to academic excellence, innovation, interdisciplinary research and global academic engagement.

4. National Webinar on “Ghar: Yeh Rishta Kya Kehlata Hai?” | 18 June 2026

Continuing the discussion on AI and emerging legal challenges, the very next day, 18 June 2026, the IPR Cell organized a National Webinar titled “Ghar: Yeh Rishta Kya Kehlata Hai? - A Framework for Attribution and Liability in AI-Ecosystems”

Dr. Aashish Srivastava returned to the virtual platform to examine the complex ethical and legal dimensions of autonomous AI systems. The session explored one of the most important questions emerging in the age of artificial intelligence: When an AI system makes an autonomous decision, who should be held responsible for its consequences? The webinar offered participants a comparative perspective on global AI governance frameworks, while examining emerging issues of attribution, accountability and liability within AI ecosystems. Together, these programmes demonstrate the IPR Cell's sustained efforts to create meaningful academic platforms that connect Intellectual Property Rights, Artificial Intelligence, law, research and global developments in higher education. Under the continued guidance and encouragement of Prof. (Dr.) Neeru Tandon, Principal, V.S.S.D. College, Kanpur, these initiatives reflect the institution's vision of fostering critical thinking, responsible innovation, interdisciplinary research and meaningful engagement with emerging global challenges. The programme was successfully conducted by Mr Vishal Gupta, while the Vote of Thanks was delivered by Dr. Kajal Kushwaha.
